

YARROW CEMETERY

ADAIR COUNTY, MISSOURI

This cemetery brought to you by Jan

The old part of the Yarrow Cemetery may also have been called Pierceville. Pierceville was south of Yarrow, and this cemetery is located north of the road and east of the church. The church still has regular services. Vernon Weber said that the old part of the cemetery is presumed to be full, though there are large areas where there are no stones. He said it was presumed that the Doomey family, which in early days owned much of the land in this area and had the first mill at Yarrow, probably gave the land for the church and cemetery. Vernon Weber also said that this area was once known as Tick Hill, and that 1/2 mile south of the church there used to be a school and trading post.

Information on Stones was copied by Sandra McCarty, Elizabeth Laughlin, Chris Swisher, Ruth Rogers, Donna Lou Jones, Andy Dorris, and Sharon Wallace.
